Introducing Scarlett O'Hara

WPA CHIEF IN NEW PLEA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Col. F. C. Harrington, head of the Works Progress Administration, renewed today its plea for restoration of the $150,000,000 that was slashed by the House from the new WPA appropriation.

Harrington appeared before a Senate appropriations subcommittee in charge of the $725,000,000 bill. Chairman Alva B. Adams, D. Colo., said afterward:

"The administrator thinks he can spend $875,000,000 or maybe more."

Opposes Change

Harrington discussed amendments written into the measure by the House. He told the committee the restriction against giving relief to aliens was immaterial inasmuch as there were only 30,000 aliens on WPA rolls and all have applied for citizenship papers.

He opposed the form in which the House adopted amendments designed to divorce politics from relief. He said he favored restricting political activities of WPA supervisory officials, but felt that persons actually on relief rolls should be left free of restrictions.

Fights Restrictions

He also opposed the form of an amendment restricting to 25 percent the amount of wage differentials which may exist between the north and south. The amendment was written into the bill by southern congressmen.

There was overwhelming sentiment in the Senate for the $725,000,000 House bill instead of the larger sum asked for by Mr. Roosevelt. Administration Senate leaders concentrated on preventing further reductions.

Their reconciliation to acceptance of the $150,000,000 cut made by the House in the $875,000,000 bill requested by President Roosevelt was said to be based on fear that attempts to restore the original figure might create more support for those seeking to reduce the fund to as little as $600,000.

Phil Stanton Quits State Post

Two members of the state highway commission, Philip Stanton of Anaheim and Paul G. Jasper of Fortuna, have been dismissed. Richard Olson, secretary of Gov. Culbert L. Olson, disclosed in Sacramento today.

Although it is expected the governor will name an entire new board later on, Young Olson said the three remaining members would be retained to conduct highway affairs and help speed completion of the biennial budget. The highway commission services at the governor's pleasure.

Stanton was appointed by Gov. James Rolph Jr. in 1931; Jasper by Gov. Frank F. Merriam in 1936.

Other commissioners are Chairman H. R. Judah of Santa Cruz, W. T. Hart of Carlsbad and Robert S. Redington of Los Angeles.

EIGHT JAILED FOR THEFT OF 26 MILLION NICKELS IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Eight men were arrested early today and charged with grand larceny and forgery in connection with the theft of $1,250,000 in nickels from the city-owned Independent Subway System.

Olson Ready To Quit Hospital

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 17.—(UP)—Gov. Culbert L. Olson looked forward today to leaving Sutter hospital at the end of the week and resting another week before returning to his office, Richard Olson, his son and private secretary, said.

The governor collapsed 10 days ago while addressing an inaugural barbecue throng at the state fair grounds. Young Olson said he now has a good appetite and is attending to important state matters through conferences with aides.

A statement issued by Dr. F. N. Scatena said:

"Governor Olson's heart is now practically normal, and the symptoms of muscular fatigue have now disappeared. . . . The government has improved to such an extent that we anticipate sending him home at the end of the present week."

S. F. Train, Truck In Collision

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—(UP)—An interurban electric train bound from Alameda to San Francisco collided with a truck and trailer in Oakland today, plunging the new San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge transportation system into a jam for the second consecutive day.

Thus, the plea of two governments for aid against powerful military foes were before the delegations.

Issues Warning

Wellington Koo told the council that Japanese militarists were aiming at the complete conquest of China and the subjugation of all of Asia. Then, he asserted the military faction now in control in Tokyo hopes eventually to achieve world domination by making use of the vast resources and manpower of the Far East.

Dr. Koo made the following concrete suggestions to the council:

1.—Boycott Japanese goods. 2.—Embargo raw materials necessary to the Japanese in wartime.

3.—Embargo planes and petroleum for Japan—a move that the council should recommend at once.

Must Pay Teacher Without Pupils

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—(UP)—A small township in Lassen county has a school building but no pupils. To complicate things it has a school teacher under contract until the end of the present term.

4.—Recommendation by the council that members of the league extend economic and financial aid to China for—among other purposes—development and reconstruction of China's southwestern provinces and relief of civilian refugees.

Pardon her English accent. This is London's Vivien Leigh, picked by experts to portray Scarlett O'Hara in the forthcoming picture "Gone With the Wind." The young London mother, (Mrs. Vivien Leigh Holman), three years ago bowed over British theater-goers, but is comparatively unknown in the United States.

JAPAN WARNS ENGLAND, U.S.

TOKYO, Jan. 17.—(UP)—The powerful ultra-nationalist sect organization called Shinsu, or the "Purple Clog Society," published an open letter to President Roosevelt today threatening retaliatory measures if the United States and Great Britain imposed economic sanctions against Japan. The letter asserted that Japan was beginning to feel that the United States was an unfriendly power.

The letter, published in Nichi Nichi, one of the largest newspapers in Japan, deplored Anglo-American cooperation in the Far East and said the United States should regard Great Britain and not Japan as an aggressor nation. It was published as a paid advertisement.

Parallel Course
The United States and Great Britain were following a parallel course in strong representations opposing Japan's plan to form an Asiatic economic bloc comprising Japan, Manchukuo and China, at the expense of the commercial interests in China of other powers. The two great English-speaking nations have informed Japan they upheld the principle of the "open door" to China, guaranteed by the nine power treaty, which Japan maintains is obsolete and proposes

MUST TESTIFY, U. S. WARNS RADIO STARS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The government has warned four radio and movie stars, summoned to testify against the comedian, Jack Benny, at his trial on smuggling charges next Tuesday, that it will tolerate no excuses for failure to appear, it was reported today. Three of them, George Burns, his wife, Gracie Allen and Jack Pearl, are among Benny's top-ranking comedians. The other is Kenny Baker, singer on Benny's own radio program.

Burns pleaded guilty to an indictment similar to Benny's and awaits sentence. They and Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, wife of a New York supreme court justice, were charged with having received smuggled goods from Albert N. Chaperau, self-styled attaché to the Nicaraguan consulate and friend of celebrities here and in Hollywood.

Chaperau pleaded guilty yesterday to two more indictments, one involving jewelry he smuggled in from Europe for Burns, and the other charging him alone with the smuggling of jewelry worth $100. Previously he had pleaded guilty to the smuggling of clothes for Mrs. Lauer and jewelry for Benny.

Chaperau collapsed 10 days ago while addressing an inaugural barbecue throng at the state fair grounds. Young Olson said he now has a good appetite and is attending to important state matters through conferences with aides.

A statement issued by Dr. F. N. Scatena said:

"Governor Olson's heart is now practically normal, and the symptoms of muscular fatigue have now disappeared. . . . The government has improved to such an extent that we anticipate sending him home at the end of the present week."

An appellate court hearing scheduled for today was postponed until Jan. 30 to permit John Gee Clark, board chairman, and W. K. Daniels, acting state architect, to visit the Chino institution to see the work already started. A. R. Walker, member of the architect firm, said:

SOLONS STUDY CITY FINANCES

A comparative statement of receipts and disbursements to the city's budget for the first half of the fiscal year, July 1 to December 31, was submitted to city council last night by City Auditor Lloyd H. Banks and referred to the finance committee, which includes all councilmen, for checking.

The report shows 60.7 per cent of the 1938-39 taxes have been collected as compared with 60.4 per cent for the same half year in 1937-38.

Sees 96 Per Cent Collection
If the same percentage of collection is received during the second half as last fiscal year, the city probably will have a 96 per cent collection at the end of the year, a normal collection, Banks stated.

For comparative purposes, the revenue outside of taxation is slightly in excess of the amount budgeted and in addition to the items budgeted, we received approximately $3000 for the sale of property and aid for engineering purposes from the first one-quarter cent gasoline tax fund," he said.

Districts Included

"With reference to the 1915 assessment act districts, the total amount outstanding as of January 1, 1939, is $268,078, which includes also the amount in default," he declared. "After two more levies, the last district will be paid out under the act which will make a considerable difference in hundreds of tax bills in the city."

Comparative figures show the approved budget for this fiscal year calls for income of $739,970 the first half year apportionment of the income, being $394,975, the actual income being $405,969.39; total disbursements in the approved budget for the year were expected to be $732,679, with $377,377 of the amount expected to be expended in the first half year with $375,361.18 being the total amount expended.

VOTE TO TEAR OUT ONE JOB

The unusual predicament where in the city of Santa Ana has been violating her own ordinances by having city employees complete plumbing jobs in city-owned departments was cleared up by city council last night at behest of a group of Santa Ana master plumbers headed by Charles F. Carlson.

After a verbal tilt between Carlson and Water Superintendent Hugh M. Neighbour, council ordered Neighbour to tear out a plumbing job done at the water works headquarters and instructed City Atty. Lew Blodget, the building inspector, electrical inspector and plumbing inspector to work out a proposed amendment to the ordinances governing the building, electrical and plumbing departments, to permit the city to do a limited amount of her own work without interference.

Charges "Unsanitary"

Carlson, the spokesman, complained that a sink had been "roughed in" at the waterworks plant by city employees in violation of the plumbing ordinance which requires the presence of a registered plumber and a master plumber. "We pay a license fee of $100 per year and feel we should have more protection," Carlson stated. "This sink was placed at the water plant in violation of the ordinance while the plumbing inspector was on vacation and could not supervise the job nor make a ruling on it."

As constructed, the sink, installed to test water and sewerage, isn't sanitary, Carlson said. He declared that the epidemic of 1924 may have been the result of poor plumbing work done by city employees not licensed as master plumbers.

Legal For "An Owner"

Neighbour admitted he ordered the work done because the plumbing inspector, Harry Crowe, was on vacation, and added that Crowe had refused to approve of the installation of the sink unless a master plumber was on the job.

"The ordinance states an owner may do his own plumbing work but I doubt that a city employee could be considered an owner under the circumstances," Carlson said. "We merely want the city to quit violating her own ordinances. A city employee could only be considered a helper unless he held master plumber's license, and therefore, must have a plumber present at all times, under the ordinance."

Cites Need of Amendments

Councilman William Penn pointed out the same question has arisen before and the ordinances governing the plumbing, building and electrical departments should be amended. He stated that the electrical inspector, W. O. Packard, regularly does electrical work for the city and therefore, an amendment is necessary for the electrical ordinance as well.

Nothing was said about the building ordinance except that the inspector, Harold Rasmussen, also was asked to confer with the city attorney. The amendments ordered will permit city employees to do plumbing, electrical or building jobs providing they be done under supervision of the several inspectors.

Value of Large Dirigibles Seen

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 17.—(UP)—The American people must "wake up" before any further construction of large dirigibles can be planned, Paul W. Litchfield, president both of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation, declared today.

Litchfield, here for a meeting of the board of directors of his company, said Germany has recognized ahead of the United States "the vital importance" of large Zeppelin-type aircraft for international commerce.

"We are still waiting for the country to wake up on this situation," Litchfield said. "Dirigibles are vitally needed for America's international commerce overseas—the ones we have built have never had a chance to demonstrate their overseas commercial possibilities."

WOMEN BETTER BEHAVED THAN USUAL, COUNTY REPORT SHOWS

The women were better behaved than usual in Orange county last year, annual report of the county probation department shows, only seven of 135 persons placed on adult probation being women, and only 49 of 175 juvenile probationers being girls.

Probation Officer Nora Allen's report shows that non-support of minor children accounted for the largest number of men involved with probation authorities, the total being 29. Burglary ran a close second with 27. Among the boys, burglary was the strongest magnet to crime, during 24 into

The seven crimes of the seven women were grand theft, contributing to delinquency of a minor possession of marijuana, forgery, issuing fraudulent check, fictitious check, and arson.

Motor Vehicle Offenses

Motor vehicle offenses numbered 15 among the men and the same total among the boys. Only nine boys were charged with immorality, as compared to 14 girls.

As compared to the 135 adults granted probation during 1938, 48 were denied. Of those allowed, 65 were sentenced to jail as a condition of probation, 39 paid fines. During the year 112 probation periods expired, and 303 remained on probation January 1, 1939.

The probation department collected $8168.55 from probationers for the support of their families, and $3247.83 for restitution and fines.

MOTORISTS WHO FAIL TO HEED SIRENS, FIREMEN, FACE ARREST

Warning that arrests will be made in the future when motorists fail to observe the laws regarding the heeding of sirens on emergency vehicles or when they follow fire apparatus to the scenes of fires was sounded today by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard.

He pointed out that the lives of his officers on emergency calls are endangered by motorists who fail to obey the law and firemen and other fire fighters to discuss the measures to be taken to stop motorists from violating the fire apparatus ordinance.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—(UP)—The Richelieu, first of four new 35,000-ton battleships, was launched at the Brest naval dockyards today, marking another stage in the naval rearmament program designed to give France six of the most powerful military vessels afloat.

The city ordinance controlling the following of fire apparatus, holds that motorists may not follow fire apparatus in the same block or closer than 300 feet and may not park in the same block where fire apparatus is on duty.

Plans Move To Oust Perkins

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(UP)

Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, R. N. J., said that he would introduce tomorrow a resolution for the impeachment of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, the only woman ever to serve as a cabinet member.

Thomas said his resolution, among other charges, would accuse the secretary of "failing" and "neglecting" to enforce the laws for deportation of alien radicals.

Two Cars Overturn

Three accidents were recorded in Santa Ana yesterday, and although nobody was injured, one of the accidents resulted in the overturning of both cars involved. The accident occurred at Cypress and Berkeley. The drivers were L. G. Connelly, Tustin, and Adolfo Beltran, 14, Santa Ana. Beltran was ticketed for operating without driver's license.

Cars driven by Charles Slick, 107 Cypress, north of Van Ness, and Milton Elzea, Route 3, Santa Ana, east on Cubbon, collided.

Walter Kern, Jr., 433 Spurgeon, Santa Ana, reported a car bearing license 3-Y-9769 for 1938, bumped his fender but the driver failed to stop. Police said the license was issued in the name of J. F. Likem, 206 American avenue, Long Beach.

The government called its last two witnesses and Ben Foster, special prosecutor, indicated he would conclude with them late today or early tomorrow morning.

Defense attorneys announced they would enter various motions for directed verdicts when the government rests.

More than 400 exhibits have been placed in evidence and nearly 25 witnesses have taken the stand since last Oct. 4. The indictment was the decision of city council last night when it adopted a motion made by Councilman William Penn, seconded by Councilman Plummer Bruns. The action "requested" the employees in question to take the time off. No candidate for re-election is included in the ruling inasmuch as an elective official is not governed by the council.

Not On City Time

Eight years ago the rule was in effect, according to officials, but at last election time, the councilmen overruled adoption of the rule before it was too late to take action.

Reason for the rule is to give employees campaigning for an elective office the privilege of campaigning without criticism that "they used the city's time for their own advancement," it was pointed out.

"We might have demanded that the candidates in question take the six weeks' vacation without pay but we didn't wish to make it too emphatic," Councilman Penn stated. "That's why we made it a request."

HEARS REPORTS ON BARCELONA

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(UP)—A ton of bombs is needed now to kill one person, due to the efficient air raid precautions system, Cyril Helsby told a meeting of the Institution of structural Engineers in an address on "Air Raids, Structure and Air Raid Precautions in Barcelona."

Helsby went to Barcelona last month in his private capacity as a structural engineer to study air raid precautions. He told the institution that "British authorities are behind the times and their trench-digging schemes are valuable." Adequate protection, he said, can be assured to all the inhabitants of England by working out schemes similar to those now operating in Barcelona.

"If the civil population is sufficiently protected against attack, the effectiveness of raids as an offensive weapon is to a large degree neutralized."

"Less than a year ago the number of deaths occurring from air raids in Barcelona was never less than several hundred in each raid. Now, although the raids have increased in severity, it takes half a ton of high explosives to kill one person."

"Out of 455 bombs which fell during the five days from Dec. 5 to 10, the casualties were approximately two people killed, 10 injured, 23 horses killed and one motor lorry seriously injured. Credit for this must be given to the air raid precautions arrangements."

The assertion that anti-aircraft fire can protect definite military objectives is supported by the fact that although nearly 2000 raids have taken place and tens of thousands of bombs have been rained down during the war, gas works still are undamaged and the power works, although they have suffered, have never been put out of commission.

In Barcelona there are shelters for one-half of the population and seats in them for one-quarter. It is very important that in this country these shelters be so fitted up that people need not leave them.

Describing the air raid shelters in Barcelona, Helsby said that in the streets they are situated so close together that a person need never be more than about 200 yards away from the entrance of one of them.

He explained that one method much favored in the streets of that city was that of tunnelling down to a depth of about 45 feet and then proceeding in long galleries underneath the houses in a complete square.

LIST CONCERT PROGRAM HERE

Focusing the spotlight on Edwin Geber, talented young cellist featured on previous federal symphony programs with noteworthy success, the concert for Thursday evening, January 26, insures an hour of fine music for those familiar with the accomplishments of the orchestra and Geber's ability as a cellist.

Outstanding Musicians

Through the efforts of Leon Eckles, Geber and other outstanding young musicians in the county have been heard to advantage in concerts here. Geber will play the "cello solo of Volkmann's "Serenade," accompanied by the orchestra.

Concert-Master Elwood Bear, familiar figure in music circles here over a long period, will occupy the podium. A program rich in musical ideas will have for its opening number the overture to the seventy-year-old but rarely heard Russian opera, "Ruslan and Ludmila," by Glinka. Pre-eminently Russian in feeling, one critic has described it as "a beautiful landscape painting which makes us feel the peculiar sadness of twilight in Russia as it calls on the vast spaces of the steppes."

The picturesque score of Goldmark's "Rustic Wedding" symphony, spirited and gay in all its five descriptive movements, is the orchestral feature.

Wagner Overture

Also on the program is the overture to Wagner's opera, "The Flying Dutchman," which the German genius wrote following a voyage from Riga to Paris via London. The boat was small and the trip lasted a fantastic number of days. From the harrowing experience emerged one of the composer's most triumphant creations—a seascape which paints in beautiful tones, "the vast deep, a tossing waste of wind and spume and cloud wrack."

MWD RESERVOIR WORK STARTED

Providing Metropolitan aqueduct connections for Long Beach, Torrance, Compton and the Los Angeles harbor district, a $3,500,000 construction program will be under way within the next six weeks, according to an announcement made yesterday at the office of F. E. Weyman, general manager of the Metropolitan Water district.

1000 To Be Employed

Including 21 miles of pipe lines and a reservoir in the Palos Verdes hills, the work will employ approximately 1000 men and is to be completed during 1939.

First work on this section of the 392-mile Metropolitan Aqueduct system was started when construction crews began operations on the site of the reservoir located at the intersection of Narbonne avenue and Palos Verdes drive in the Palos Verdes hills.

The pipe line system will be an extension of the line now under construction from Eagle Rock canyon to Ninety-eighth and Wadsworth streets, Los Angeles. Known as the Palos Verdes feeder, this line will deliver Metropolitan aqueduct water to Los Angeles as well as the three cities in the southwestern part of the water district area.

Rush Work On Plans

With the first section of the Metropolitan aqueduct having been placed in operation on January 7, when Colorado river water was pumped through the Intake pumping plant, water district engineers are rapidly completing plans to have the giant water supply system ready for service during the present year.

Under the direction of R. B. Diemer, distribution engineer for the Metropolitan Water district, approximately 75 miles of the aqueduct distributing system has already been completed and construction of remaining feeder lines will be started in the near future.

YOU MAY NOT KNOW—

—That Coach and Mrs. Ralph (Bill) Cole are infanticipating. He or she is expected this spring. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin (Baldy) Foltz also are blessed—eventing soon. He's the basketballer and ex-softball star.

That the "heat" is on and Orange county's bookies have skeltered for cover.

—That the so-called power of the press was just an also-ran when it tangled with those holier-than-thou collegians over pro football at the L. A. Coliseum. The Times moved heaven and earth to open the stadium (owned by taxpayers) to its Giant-All Star game yet finished second best because the conference colleges squawked.

—That Harry Lewis, who re-opens the Orange County Athletic club with wrestling the latter part of January, was a partner of Lou Daro during the pioneer era and recalls when he and Daro tramped from door to door with their handbills.

—That almost since the genesis of baseball, umpires have been called "robbers" and "holdupmen" but now two Coast league arbiters (Wally Hood and Ray Snyder) are in a position to reverse these remarks . . . or were in a position. That position was flat on the floor of a Los Angeles restaurant and looking into the muzzles of a couple of gats. They and the hired help were ordered to lie flat on the floor, and the response was unanimous. Each lost a wrist watch. Snyder's was a keepsake; sadder still, Hood hadn't finished paying for his.

—That Lou Reinert, a crack midge-car driver from the East (he won the New Hampshire state championship) is a Santa Ana resident now and is anxious to contact owners. Lives at 2025 Cypress avenue.

—That the colorful House of David basketball team (which plays Santa Ana jaysee at Tustin tomorrow night) was organized eight years ago, and has averaged 125 games a season. It has won 90 per cent. Art Stoelinga, who plays center, soars 6'11 and weighs 240 pounds. He attended Central college in Iowa and toured the country with Olson's Swedes for two years.

TRIM IRVINE, 33-27

As volatile as surf on sand,
As dateless as the sea—
With deathless skill at my command,
I'm turp's epitome!

"That's putting it all in a nutshell," chuckled the noted maestro of the turf, "and leaves nothing to be added," he concluded.

A check-up disclosed that this was indeed so, most admittedly so, being merely a routine rendition of unadulterated fact. Hawkeye fans point proudly to his long and lustrous record as leading handicapper, bar none, and to the fact that Hawkeye horses always win, and aver that killing would have been made Friday had not the astute play, Annie Reigh, been scratched, and furthermore that Saturday was merely another of those rare exceptions which but prove the rule when Chief Gamble failed to score.

The astute play for today: $2 straight on Time Alone; winnings back on Triplane.

The financial standings:

Original bankroll	$250
Bets won	13
Bets lost	8
Bankroll to date	$260.70

BOYCOTT LOWELL IN S. F. PREP SCANDAL

SAN FRANCISCO—(UP)—The Academic Athletic association prepared today to draw up a set of regulations against proselytizing of junior high school athletes after a furor raised in the city's "ice cream cone" scandal.

Other developments included word that Galileo, Mission Commerce and George Washington high schools would refuse to send basketball teams out against Lowell, four-time city conference champion. Four other members of the association—Balboa, Polytechnic, Sacred Heart and Ignatius high schools—did not join in the boycott.

TWO-HOUR PARKING MEASURE ENACTED

Police and Fire Chiefs Praised

Fire Chief John Luxemburger and Police Chief Floyd W. Howard both received compliments from city council officially last night for the neatness and detail presented in annual reports submitted to the council.

The reports, details of which have been revealed in The Register previously, should be reviewed by the council as a committee of the whole, Fire Commissioner William Penn declared. A motion was adopted unanimously whereby the review will be made. The fire department report was the 21st annual report made by the veteran fire chief.

The zone extensions were ordered upon recommendation of Lieutenant B. A. Hershey of the police traffic squad who pointed out numerous complaints have been entered by residents living near the downtown area. These residents complained that all-day parkers have become annoying in many instances because they have blocked alleys and driveways.

Districts Mapped

The resolutions adopted last night map "Central Traffic District A" in the downtown area for one-hour parking and "Central Traffic District B" in the outlying area for two-hour parking. Another recommendation by Lieutenant Hershey would prohibit entirely parking on Seventh street between Main and Sycamore, an area between the county garage and county jail which is mistaken frequently for an alley. Officially it is Seventh street, although thought about the width of the average alley, it was stated. Police Commissioner Plummer Bruns was asked to investigate the Seventh street recommendation and make recommendation to council.

A turkey dinner will be served with those attending asked to bring a vegetable other than potatoes, or a salad. The program will include community singing. Roy Runnells is president of the center.

The privilege was granted subject to the requirements of the ordinance governing auctions. Marks said he has been in business two and one-half years, will hold the auction for 14 days but not more than 30 days and holidays excluded.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Post-Holiday Month Has Country Club Gayeties

Approximately half a hundred guests gathered at the Country club Sunday evening for a merry supper planned by the Stanley Andersons and Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Maxwell. These Sunday night suppers are steadily growing in popularity, and even in this first post-holiday month have been well attended, thanks to the excellent leadership of Mrs. Fredric Dunstan, January social chairman, and the capable host groups of her appointment.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunstan welcomed almost a record-breaking crowd at the first one on New Years Day, and the Clyde Hills and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Earell were hosts at quite as popular an event on the following Sunday night. The Emil Wagners and the J. K. McDonalds are anticipating another large group for next Sunday night.

In the meantime will come the equally popular evening of bridge Friday night at 8 o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur May and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harrison will receive. Advance reservations are asked for this party, that the hosts may know for how many to prepare refreshments. There will be the usual attractive prizes and friendly hospitality.

The next bridge tea for feminine members will be Friday afternoon, January 26, with Mesdames Rex Kennedy, George Satler and Howard Rapp as hostesses.

Auxiliary Members Give Party in Shidler Home

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Shidler are sharing their enjoyment in their new home, 1129 South Garnsey street with their many friends, several of whom surprised them Saturday night with a housewarming affair. Women's Auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical union planned the party.

Mrs. E. W. Ellis, chairman of the social committee, had planned a games program. Prizes were won by two men of the party, O. S. Waters and Carl Fisher. On behalf of the assembled friends, Mrs. Fisher, president of the auxiliary, presented Mr. and Mrs. Shidler with a table lamp.

Refreshments were served to the group, which included Messrs. and Mesdames E. E. Frishy, George Duke and daughters, Diane and Suzanne; Warren Brakeman, W. H. Fields and daughter, Margaret; C. E. Fisher, E. W. Ellis, O. S. Waters, C. A. Rousseau, J. W. Jones, E. Y. Taylor, J. W. Parkinson and daughter, Peggy Louise; with Mr. and Mrs. Shidler and their daughters, Betty and Jackie, and former Santa Anans, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Marvin of Lakeside.

Merry Party Planned As Birthday Observance

In celebration of her 11th birthday anniversary, Miss Patricia Denys was hostess Saturday afternoon at a gay party. A group of her school friends found entertainment in a theater party, seeing "Trade Winds" at the Broadway theater.

After all returned to the home of Miss Patricia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Denys, 1412 North Garnsey street, they were amazed at the scene to greet them. For Mrs. Denys had transformed the living room into a "hot dog" stand, and all the appetizing hot dog products were served.

Enjoying the gayeties with Patricia were the Misses Diane Shrewsbury, Los Angeles; Marjorie Raitt, Patry Bradley, Jean Dilley, Louise Padden, Peggy Beilor, Clara Hollingsworth, Norleen Smith, Patsy Crowell, Carmen McLoney, Elinore Dodge, Camille Davis and Betty Huffman.

Birthday Celebration

Residents at the Sheltering Palms, 605 West Second street gathered around the dinner table for chicken dinner Saturday evening in surprise celebration of the birthday of Albert Short.

Mrs. Maryann Knox was hostess at the affair, attended by Mr. Short and Mrs. Addie Trickey, Mrs. E. W. Shiple and Thomas B. Welch, Charles Boulier, John Gilbert, John Gorrell, Dean Nugent and B. Garcia. The group joined in singing "Happy Birthday to You." Served as a feature of the dinner was a decorated birthday cake.

Guests at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. MacMullen were hosts at a dinner party Saturday night in their home, 1919 Heliotrope Drive. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Garrison of Des Moines, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mansfield of Windsor, Can.

Mr. Mansfield is president of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 17.—Looking over today's list of pictures now shooting and to be started within the next month, I note that four of them are expected to cost approximately $2,000,000 each—and I'm wondering why.

In 18 years, exactly 24 of the nearly 9,000 pictures produced have grossed as much as $2,000,000—and those twenty-four were pictures to conjure with. The first all-talking, all-singing, with Al Jolson as star; the two greatest Charlie Chaplin comedies; the first Mae West shocker; the great Biblical colossal, "The Ten Commandments." Every one had special sales appeal and seventeen of them were produced in boom times, when Tom, Dick and Harry had no trouble paying admission fees. Please note, too, that the other seven were made when Hollywood had a world market for its merchandise.

I can't understand such prodigious costs today. The world market has been whittled away by totalitarian trade bans until only a few important territories remain. Business conditions are still bad in the United States—so bad, that a $2,000,000 picture is a thousand-to-one shot. In the long run such extravagance affects every theater-goer, for Hollywood has a neat little habit of making up its losses by cramming cheaply-produced, below-par junk into the theaters. Block-booking and producer-owned theater chains make such pictures sure-fire investments—but who wants to see them? I'm sure most of us would prefer to see studios reaping a profit from fine pictures, economically made. That's the one production program that will give us a high average of screen entertainment.

IDL CHATTER: Clark Gable's mouth is ample, too. Look alikes: Eddie Cantor and Moon Mullins of funny paper fame. I'd like to see the memory course that would do Victor McLaglen any good. Surely you remember Hedy Lamarr—she's that girl we used to see so much of. Wouldn't it be wonderful to face the world with the self-confidence and unconcern that Fred MacMurray seems to feel. How-times-change note: Mischa Auer, who rides a horse for exercise now, would have been glad to eat one during his last year in Russia.

What a Rubaiyat W. C. Fields could write—if he could only write. The two most talked-about actors in Hollywood today aren't stars; they're character-actors Walter Brennan and Gene Lockhart. Outstanding long shot of 1938: "Love Finds Andy Hardy," it paid Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer $2 for 1. What with bad pictures and lulls in her life, it begins to look as though "Stage Door" might have been a photo-finish for Andrea Leeds.

Watch the fun when Sam Goldwyn brings Richard Bennett out here for "I Am a Doctor"—there's a man who takes his temperament seriously. Bert Lahr thinks it's because superstitious people knock wood that Charlie McCarthy knocks people. There's a brittleness about Jeanette MacDonald's beauty that reminds me of a cellophane flame. Today's rueful reflection: Isn't it a shame that so many stars' mirrors are vanity cases. In profile, Jimmy Durante hasn't so much on William Powell, at that.

Whenever the Lakesiders get to talking about the business coups of movie stars—and they were last night—someone invariably talks about Gary Cooper's amazing stroke at Paramount. It happened about seven years ago. Gary, freshly graduated from cheap westerns, was getting five hundred per when his contract expired, and the studio proposed renewing at $20,000 a picture. "How do you know I'm worth that much—maybe you're overpaying me," said Gary, and went to the desert. The studio, with three Gary Cooper pictures promised to its exhibitors, phoned him daily—and Gary invariably thought "maybe $20,000 might be too much." Two weeks later, Paramount made him another offer, and he took it. He signed for $75,000 a picture!

Stopped on the set where Bob Burns is making final scenes for "Tim From Missouri" and found him before the cameras, stripped to the waist, with a very English butler scrubbing his back. The director pronounced the first take perfect, but Bob insisted on shooting it again. "Do you think you can improve on that scene?" asked the director—and Bob grinned happily. "It ain't that," he said in his best hillbilly drawl. "I'm gettin' me a real kick outta this here scene. If you'd been born and raised in Van Buren, maybe you'd understand."

Jack Oakie tells about the resourceful actor who hi-pressed a studio into signing him by assuring the producer that three other companies were after him. "Do you mind telling what companies wanted you?" asked the big-shot after the contract was signed. "Certainly not," laughed the mime, "The light company, the finance company and the gas company!"

Young Birthday Host Welcomes Playmates

Observing birthday traditions which came into prominence two years ago on his third anniversary, Master Nelson Visel celebrated his fifth natal day late last week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Visel, 220 Cypress avenue.

The little lad's playmates have come to anticipate his annual party as a time when they visit toyland and play almost any game they wish. As in previous years on this important date, the Visel home was given over to the children. Small tables had been set up so that the boys and girls might play blocks, read, or work with stencils and clay.

In other rooms were dolls, tops and wheel toys which furnished the very young guests with the most desirable of entertainment. Mrs. Newell Moore, in charge of a miniature theatre, screened pictures showing various other birthday parties in which many of the guests have taken part. These included Nelson's parties in 1937 and 1938. Later, pictures of the 1939 celebration were taken of the children at play, and of the little host and his birthday cake.

The pretty confection was frosted in white, with five yellow birds holding sunny candles. Nelson cut the cake, which was served with ice cream and animal cookies. "Happy birthday" covers spread the tables, centered with animal-shaped vases filled with flowers. Colored balls were favors. Assisting the hostess in serving were Mesdames James Anderson, Helen Mortensen, Evelyn Niestadt and Miss Jean McCormac.

THE NEW DEAL IS SWORD

ACCENT ON RELIGION

The contrast between United States attitudes on religion and those of certain European nations is highlighted as the New York World's Fair approaches.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., speaking at a luncheon for exposition executives, asked further subscriptions for the completion of a Temple of Religion on the grounds.

"The world today is not so much in need of skill as of character," he said. "How incomplete the World's Fair would be as a picture of the American people if it did not prominently feature religious life."

In recognizing worship as a key unit for one of the greatest exhibitions of the year, the United States proves its unwillingness to be led into political policies which crush religion to the earth.

ORANGE COUNTY LAWYERS' PARADISE

Probably few people realize that the workers in Orange county have 15 lawyers whom they are helping support, besides the judges. No wonder it is hard for the working man to pay his rent and hold his job, with such a large fraction of what he produces going to support so many lawyers.

You ask where are the lawyers. They line up as follows:

The District Attorney and his five deputies;

The new office, County Counsel, created by the Commissioners, makes seven;

B. Z. McKinney, in the Flood Control, makes eight;

Albert Lauer of Fullerton, in the Flood Control, makes nine;

Two lawyers at Riverside, makes 11;

Two lawyers in San Diego County, in the Jackson case, makes 13;

And two lawyers at Los Angeles, checking bonds, makes 15.

So, when you pay your rent, or your taxes, or buy your groceries, remember the tax-eaters are not making it any easier for you, and the way to correct this is to elect officers who will not waste your substance so extravagantly.

WHERE WILL THEY CUT?

Republican solons who applauded President Roosevelt's reference, in his message to Congress, to lessen government expenditures, are conceded to occupy a position of power in regard to what shall be cut.

If government expenses are to be cut, and the Republican side of the chamber indicated by its applause that it approves, there must be real and drastic reductions in major government activities. But it will be interesting to note their choices in what will be cut.

Farm aid? Quite a lot of new Republican congressmen were elected by farm votes. Will the Corn Belt Liberty League be able to assure the burning drought that might follow cessation of the "gentle rain of checks?"

Rivers and Harbors? Traditional niche of the pork-barrel! Will economy-seeking congressmen be brave enough to concede that even the item from the home bailiwick of Goose Creek is unnecessary?

Flood control? Every canceled project means men out of work.

Highways? People live along every route crossed off the improvement list. People who vote!

Aid to veterans? Will these congressmen prove braver than the ones who passed the pre-payment of the bonus over Roosevelt's veto?

Social Security? Will Republican congressmen elected by Townsend votes be likely to want to curtail it?

W.P.A.? Heavily under fire as a political adjunct, criticized as a morale-shattering dole and a public waste, the tide of protests against any possible reduction already is rising, especially in labor and radical papers.

Yet the only way to reduce is to reduce. The applause of the opposition members may yet echo in their own ears as they face the deadly realities of the carrying out of policies which the electorate appeared to approve in so many sections in the last election. The hardest thing for congressmen to realize is that reduced federal expenditures must begin, like charity, at home. And no congressman who is unwilling to see a reduction of federal funds spent in his home district can congratulate himself on the applause that leaped so lightly to his hands at the early session.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S MOTTO (Collier's)

In one of his columns Walter Winchell wonders "whether Eleanor Roosevelt's motto doesn't top the Golden Rule. She says, 'I will do more than live and let live; I will live and help live.'"

That's not our idea of the way the Golden Rule runs but, leaving that aside, we think Walter's point is open to argument.

You take the live-and-let-live or mind-your-own-business people, and you place opposite them the live-and-let-live people, or do-gooders, and you look over what the two groups have and haven't accomplished for the well-being of the human race, and what do you find?

You find, we believe, that it takes both kinds to keep things in balance, and that it will be sad day for the human race when and if either one of these groups comes to be in the decisive majority. We say this though we agree that Mrs. Roosevelt is about as admirable a do-gooder as could be imagined.

The trouble is that most do-gooders overdo the doing of good. The best illustrations we know of at the moment happen to be a couple of members of the official family of this same lady's illustrations.

WOULD TOWNSEND PLAN RAISE PRICES?

I recently attempted to show that the example regarding gasoline tax, cited in the official Townsend booklet, was not a parallel tax to the transaction tax. Today, I want to cite a few figures to refute the statement of the Townsendites that the seller of the goods, who pays the tax, should be able to absorb the tax as a part of the operating cost.

The tax is at the rate of two per cent. The official folder of the Townsendites estimates there would be 8,000,000 beneficiaries to receive $200 a month. This would cost the producers $19,200,000,000 a year. Now, if the retailer is to be able to absorb this two per cent, it is mathematically evident that $19,000,000,000 is two per cent of $950,000,000,000. So, in order for the retailer to absorb this as a two per cent charge, the total volume of retail sales would have to be 27 times higher than they were in 1938, when, according to the United States Department of Commerce, they amounted to $35,000,000,000; or, if the volume of business were as high as in 1929, according to the same authority, namely, $49,000,000,000, the retail sales would have to be 19 times larger than they were in 1929.

Now, the Townsendites are protesting that the retailer would not pay all the taxes. But, would any sane man contend that any man would work with the idea of producing some wealth and selling it to someone else, unless he expected the buyer to pay for all the costs; namely, labor, rent, interest and taxes? History shows that when they do not add in these costs and collect them from the buyer, they go out of business. This is simple arithmetic.

So, all the previous taxes that are paid on transactions would be passed on to the retailer and the retailer would have to, of necessity, either absorb this, or pass it on to the customer; and if it be kept at two per cent, his volume would have to be increased to $950,000,000,000 which is 27 times greater than the total retail sales of last year.

And it is certainly doubtful whether even any optimistic Townsendite, who believes that wealth can be created by a form of taxation, would contend that we have facilities or enough men to produce enough to increase our retail sales 27 times more than they were last year.

So the contention of the Townsendites in their official booklet, that transaction tax that would collect $19,000,000,000 would not add to the cost of commodities, is the most absurd and ridiculous contention in their whole dream.

DO-GOODERS

In today's issue is reproduced an article from Collier's. The article deals with how far we should go in being our brother's keeper. The article contends that in order to have progress it takes both those who attempt to be our brother's keeper and those who mind their own business.

The question of how far you should help other people live is one on which the people of the United States and the people of the church have become greatly confused. They seem to come to the conclusion that it is the duty of others to force their ideas on others by laws to protect others from themselves.

This belief, as I have stated before, leads to the right to coerce and suppress others and this belief leads to one law after another until the individual has lost his inalienable rights and is obliged to live as the majority dictates.

We, in America, have even come to the point that a man dare not work as long as he wants because so many people contend they believe in being your brother's keeper. In reality, the most of them do not believe in that at all but they really think that a man's working and producing hurts other workers. In their ignorance, they are making laws that are destroying the very foundation of the philosophy of Christianity and of Democracy.

No, I do not agree with Collier's, that we need meddlers and people who entirely mind their own business. It seems to me that we need people who will not force their way of living on others when not wanted, but will be willing to give a helping hand to others when they want and need it. We do not want either those who force their control over others or refuse entirely to give any assistance to others when wanted.

I doubt very much whether the author of the article is correct, when he says that both Harry Hopkins and Aubrey Williams of the W.P.A. have hearts of pure gold. I have never seen any signs of any real heart in either of these men. Both of them want to dominate the lives of others. I have never seen them make any particular sacrifice themselves to help others, who voluntarily wanted help.

Commerce) and Aubrey Williams, of WPA fame, Beyond question, both of these gentlemen have hearts of pure gold. But we think it is also beyond question that these two hearts of gold are doing the country great harm.

Mr. Hopkins furiously denies ever having made the famous remark attributed to him, "We will spend and spend, tax and tax, elect and elect," but that is the principle on which most of the W.P.A.'s bosses and sub-bosses have been acting for years. It was only after the New Deal defeat of November, 1938, that Mr. Hopkins let a murmur escape him about perhaps making WPA more efficient and economical.

Mr. Williams' 24-carat heart has an unfortunate effect on other parts of his chassis: it leads him now and again to put his foot in his mouth. It was Mr. Williams who advised WPA "clients" to vote for their friends; remarked, according to the usually reliable United Press, that he didn't know but what class warfare in this country would be a good thing.

There have been do-gooders whose efforts didn't have such ruinous kickbacks—Florence Nightingale, Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, Sir Wilfred Grenfell, Alexander Baden-Powell, Clara Barton, to mention a few. On the other hand, there have been Savonarola, Karl Marx, the Puritans, William Jennings Bryan and the federal prohibitionists—all of them lovers of humanity and convinced that they knew how to save humanity. And there are, to repeat, do-gooders like Messrs. Hopkins and Williams.

We hope the do-gooders, or I'll improve-you-if-it-kills-you people, go on by being pretty well counterbalanced by the mind-your-own-business people who are willing to give battle for the right to go to the devil in their own way if they so desire.

Anything Going To Be Cut Besides Expenses?

Fair Enough

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Many emphatic ladies have filed dissenting opinions on the recent proposal in these dispatches that employers and politicians with appointive jobs to award avoid hiring women whose husbands are employed. The suggestion is treated as radical, even Hitler-esque, in carelessly disregard of the fact that it would add nothing to the conditions of hire which already exist. In fact there are existing conditions of eligibility imposed by some unions which are much more serious impairments of individual rights than the one proposed.

Employers in most lines already possess the right to select their employees and to discriminate without any obligation to explain matters to disappointed candidates. This right is being whittled down and eventually we may have a sort of civil service method of selection administered by labor organizations, possibly under government supervision, but in lines in which workers are selected singly or in small numbers the boss still can pick his employee, and it may be that already some companies give preference to unmarried women or to married women who are supporting families. The boss may—and one hears that he sometimes does—turn away applicants for reason of religion, personal appearance or personal disfavor. He may turn down superior individual and hire a mediocrite merely because the lucky number has been sent by a big customer with a letter of recommendation, wrapped around a section of lead pipe. It is often done. There are many familiar stories of the person who caught on for no other reason than that the boss liked the cut of his jib or the color of her eyes.

This being so—and surely nobody will deny that it is—the married woman whose husband has a job plainly would not be the victim of any new injustice. If it is unjust to permit the employer to give the job to a needed individual, that certainly does not come under the head of new business. True, that makes him the judge of need, but that is the way it is, nevertheless, and the way it has been always, yet, if he can obtain reliable information which leads him to select the head of a dependent family or a single-handed individual who must have a job in order to live, rejecting a woman whose husband has a good job, that discrimination is less harsh than other kinds.

Next comes a series of waves in the wall of the stomach which do not pass downward as is the case ordinarily but pass in a reverse manner or upward.

As these waves continue, the person affected begins to breathe deeply; then there is a powerful contraction of the diaphragm and the muscles of the abdomen so that the contents of the stomach are forced as by an explosion up the esophagus, into the mouth and throat but all the way down.

Usually the heart begins to beat more rapidly. There may be a sensation of dizziness and faintness. The accumulation of symptoms may be followed by a sudden explosive emptying of the stomach but sometimes the symptoms may pass over without the final step.

This mechanism has been studied under the X-ray. It has been found that the first step is a closing of the valve at the bottom of the stomach through which the food passes from the stomach to the intestines.

Sometimes this takes place so rapidly that if the passage from the throat to the nose is not closed, some of the material is ejected through the nose.

Vomiting is caused by irritating substances in the stomach, sometimes by ulcers or other serious changes that have taken place in the wall of the stomach, but far more frequently by reflex irritation developing elsewhere in the body.

The chief example of this type of vomiting is seasickness. In seasickness the trouble begins in the semi-circular canals which are connected with the internal ear.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Discreet conversations have been taking place behind the scenes with a view to inviting President Cardenas to Washington for a discussion of all outstanding problems between the United States and Mexico.

Chief holders of this olive branch are high-placed Senators who believe the present stalemate between the oil companies and Cardenas, and between Cardenas and other U. S. agencies, can be broken down by a heart-to-heart talk between the two "Good Neighbor" presidents.

Such a visit was discussed informally between the Mexican ambassador and the State department about the time Colonel Batista came from Cuba to see Roosevelt. State department's reply was: "The time is not ripe."

Since then, Cardenas has been sounded out again and favors the visit. He has the highest regard for Roosevelt and thinks the entire oil problem might be settled in a personal conference.

Nazi Influence

Things have been drifting dangerously in Mexico. The economic situation is so bad that even labor, chief friend of Cardenas, is getting disgruntled. His army chiefs in the northern provinces are deserting him, and revolution is rumored.

What makes the situation bad for the United States is that American sales have dropped off 60 per cent, largely in favor of Germany. Here are two illustrations:

1. Recently a Mexican purchasing agent asked the Worthington Pump company to sell $40,000 worth of spare parts for oil refining machinery, offering to pay cash. Worthington refused, explained it did $900,000 annual business with Standard and Sinclair (whose properties have been seized by Mexico), that these companies might boycott Worthington if it sold to the Mexican government. So Mexico bought from Germany.

2. Some Mexican agent also asked General Electric to sell a steam turbine generator for a municipal plant in Vera Cruz, value $750,000. He suggested that the Export-Import bank discount Mexico's notes. But the Export-Import bank has a stop order against all credits to Mexico. So Germany offered the same turbine for 25 per cent less and to be a Senator any more . . . Wally Gilbert, father of the late actor John Gilbert, is a director of the WPA theater at San Francisco, one of WPA's best . . . Pan-American Airways is in for stiff competition from General Goering's "Condor" air line in South America. Its new Focke-Wulf four-motored planes will cut schedule almost in half. Pan-American may have to shorten U. S.-Buenos Aires flight to three days.

Confirmation

You can bet your roll on this: The Senate will confirm by big majorities the appointments of Prof. Felix Frankfurter to the Supreme Court. Frank Murphy as attorney general.

Harry Hopkins as secretary of commerce.

Ex-Senator James Pope as a member of the TVA board.

There will be little or no debate in the Senate on Murphy and Frankfurter.

Hopkins' elevation to the Cabinet will stir up the longest and sharpest debate. His ability will not be questioned but his administration of WPA will come for criticism, particularly from Senator Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, a personal enemy of Hopkins.

But after all the shouting and tumult, he will be approved by a big majority—with a number of Republicans voting for him.

problem can be solved by a dole system. It matters not whether you call it a Pension Plan, Relief, W.P.A. or X.Y.Z., they all tend to ultimate financial chaos, social disintegration and anarchy.

Salvation from national ruin comes through the practice of democratic and Christian ideals. There is no alternative. The complete program of social evolution is contained in the Philosophy of Christianity, the philosophy we have never taken time to decipher. We can be saved from all our mistakes by an intelligent understanding and application of the principles involved. Continued ignorance insures worldwide social disaster. We sow today what we shall reap tomorrow. This principle is axiomatic and inevitable. The New Birth is imperative because it opens a fresh outlook, a new beginning, a workable philosophy of life.

SERIAL STORY

NO TIME TO MARRY

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, slipping back into the apartment early in the morning, Cynthia tells Janet that she is married. She dares Janet to guess who is the man.

CHAPTER VIII
JANET said, after a moment of bewilderment, "Why, Barney, of course. I supposed naturally it was Barney who meant."

"Oh, did you, indeed?" Cynthia demanded drearily. "Janet, was there any more reason why I should marry Barney tonight than there was yesterday—or a week ago—or a month?"

"Why—I don't know . . . Then, in Heaven's name, Cyn, who is it?"

"Why, Timothy Benton, of course. I thought you knew I was going out to dinner with him to-night."

"Timothy Benton!" Janet echoed slowly after what seemed to her so long and empty a silence that her own voice startled her. "But, Cyn, you couldn't . . . You couldn't! Why, you hardly know him! You can't possibly be in love with him."

"In love with him?" Cynthia's voice was harsh. "Who said I was in love with him? I said I had married him . . . People can't always have everything, you know, Jan—like you. Well, I decided—some time ago—that if I couldn't have—what I wanted most—I wasn't going to be fool enough to let that keep me from taking the next best thing that offered . . . You see, Tim has his points . . . And at least I shan't have to charge my frocks to your account any more, Jan."

Janet made a helpless inarticulate sound in her throat before she could speak again.

"But, Cynthia," she said. "Why do you say you couldn't have what you wanted most? You could have had Barney. He—"

"Barney!" Cynthia stormed to her feet; her eyes suddenly blazing. "I'm sick of hearing about Barney . . . Why, you little fool, you don't imagine it was Barney I wanted, do you?"

THEN abruptly she crumpled into a sobbing heap upon the bed. Janet sat quietly by her, warming her icy hands in her own warm ones, until the paroxysm had worn itself out. Finally Cynthia sat up abruptly.

"Forget it!" she said with a ghost of her old mocking smile. "It's amazing how it helps to let your hair down once in awhile, isn't it? . . . Well, I guess I'd better be running along."

"You're not going back to him, Cynthia."

"Nonsense!" her cousin said, and got abruptly to her feet. "I made my bargain and I'll stick to it . . . And not so bad a bargain at that."

what their parents do openly, casually, naturally. The way to make children take smoking casually, naturally, as an adult practice, is to accept it just that way.

I agree heartily that hiding any thing from the children is bad practice. Let them know the truth, but don't make a dramatic staging of it if you want it accepted as a matter of fact. Chatting is far worse than smoking.

fast, Aunt Mary. Hadn't you better butter your roll while it's hot?" It sounded parrot-like and rehearsed—as it was.

Aunt Mary set down the silver pot from which she had been about to pour her niece's coffee, and folded her hands before her.

"Janet Dwight," she said, "you're the most transparent equivocator I've ever had the privilege of listening to."

"All right," Janet said desperately, "it was Cynthia who called me last night—and I muffled the telephone bells. I did it because we didn't want the newspapers to bother you."

"The newspapers?" If Aunt Mary turned a little white, her voice was not less steady. "My dear child, if this is your idea of breaking something to me gently, you might as well give a war-hoop and fire off a gun. Anyhow, I've had so many unpleasant things broken to me in my day that I'm practically shock proof."

So Janet told her what had happened between Cynthia and herself.

When she had finished, the old lady nodded her head slowly and murmured, "Timothy Benton, hm . . . Well, I can't pretend to be surprised."

"Aun Mary, you mean you expected this?"

"I won't say I expected this, but I've been expecting an explosion of some sort ever since—"

"EVER since what?"

For once, Aunt Mary seemed embarrassed.

"Well—ever since I've noticed how restless she is."

Janet knew that was not at all what Aunt Mary had started to say; but she also knew that there was no use in pressing the point.

"And you didn't do anything to stop her?"

"When people reach Cynthia's age, my dear, there's not much use trying to stop them—or start them, either. All that should have been taken care of years ago with a birch rod. Did—Lance mention having heard about this?"

When she had talked with Lance awhile ago, she had not mentioned Cynthia's marriage for fear Aunt Mary would hear. Now she wondered a little blankly what he would think. She had so often had the feeling that Lance did not approve of Cynthia.

Before she could answer, the knocker on the hall door sounded sharply.

"The representatives of the press, I presume," Aunt Mary sighed. "Cynthia might at least have supplied us with a few more essential facts. Just what I am to tell them I'm sure I don't know."

WATER WALKER LOST IN 1861
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Research workers of the Federal Writers' Project have found records of at least one attempt to walk on water. In 1861, according to the document found, a certain Rowlands alighted from a steamboat to take a stroll across San Francisco bay wearing his own invention of "canoe shoes with leggings." "Up to sunset," the contemporary document states, "his body has not been found."

HEADED FOR MOUND

Because he has a fine throwing arm but lacks hitting ability for an outfielder, Vince DiMaggio may be turned into a pitcher by Casey Stengel, Bee manager.

"MOTHER SMOKES"

"Helen, the children are coming."

"Well, what of it?"

"Put that cigarette away. You don't want them to see you smoking."

"What I don't want, really, is to see them smoking."

"Hurry! They'll think they can smoke if you do."

"They will, some day, I have no doubt. Hullo, chickens. Had a good day?"

"Yes, mother. Can we go sliding in the park if June's Nana takes us?"

"Sure. Get your lunch and change first. You'll need warmer stockings won't you?"

"Yes, and our leggings, but no rubbers, please, mother. Else we can't slide."

"All right. Just so you keep your legs warm."

The children raced away and mother resumed her cigarette which she had held between her fingers, in plain sight, as she talked to the children. Aunt Hat tie was red with rage.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself. Such an example. What would your mother say?"

"She would not want me to cheat whatever I did. I am not going to hide it from the children. In the first place they would catch me at it and I'd look like a fool. Besides they would know I was cheating, acting a lie; and I do not want them to think that their mother was a liar as well as a smoker. I think they'll forgive my smoking. They'll look at it as I do, as a matter of course. But they would not forgive my lying to them. Anyway, I'm not going to, ever."

Smoking is no sin. It is a habit indulged in by many decent men and women the wide world over. Once we started the children gathering packs of cigarettes for the Soldiers in the World War we could not go back to making them believe that smoking was a bad business. Those sick and suffering men had to have smokes, and we supplied them. There are suffering men and women in the world today, as always, and if a smoke helps them over the hard place, who will deny it to them? If a smoke eases tired nerves, who is going to denounce it? Smoking to excess is bad. So is eating too much candy, drinking too much wine, talking too much, sleeping too much. Doing anything too much is fatal.

Children should not smoke. That little NOT can be made quite as much a matter of course as the one about children playing with matches. No intelligent child questions that one. The smoking "not" is as imperative and as easy to teach. Being quite frank about the matter makes it easier. Children do not question

ORANGE, Jan. 17.—Rare and beautiful books representing the development of printing and book binding which followed the discovery of movable type, was on display at the meeting of the Orange Woman's club yesterday when the speaker was Leura Dorothy Bevis and her subject "The Lure of Book Collecting."

Miss Bevis traced the history of printing and had with her a printed sheet of paper which had been in the possession of Marco Polo and which the great traveler had found on his first journey to China. She also told briefly of world famous printers. William Caxton, Benjamin Franklin, Gutenberg and others.

Mrs. A. D. Burkett was awarded the lucky prize of a card table and Mrs. A. Haven Smith accompanying herself at the piano and sang "A Bowl of Roses" and "Swallows" responding to an encore. Mrs. E. H. Smith gave a talk on the campaign for funds to fight infantile paralysis now underway and asked the support of club women.

The First Toastmasters section sponsored the interesting program and Mrs. C. O. Powell, president of the group introduced the speaker. Mrs. R. W. Cruzen announced the first of a series of six lessons in Contract bridge to be given by Mrs. Ormal Bennie of Fullerton each Tuesday evening at 8 p. m.

February 6 marks the annual Birthday luncheon for the club and it was announced that a musical program will mark the occasion. Hostesses will be the executive board.

The tea table was centered with yellow narcissus and lavender stock and was lighted with yellow tapers. Miss Flo Scarritt and Mrs. C. O. Powell poured. Hostesses were Mesdames E. H. Smith, E. P. Ehren, Ethel Nicquette G. L. Niles and Powell.

One of the highlights of the program was the talk on "Current Events" given by the city librarian, Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, who commented on news of the day of especial interest to her audience, selecting items other than rapidly changing international ones.

Newlyweds Are Honor Guests

OLIVE, Jan. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fairbairn, newlyweds, who were married December 27 at Hoquiam, Wash., were honor guests last night at a charivari and reception planned by residents of Olive, about 150 joining in the event arranged as a surprise.

A feature of the evening was the drive on which Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn were taken with the horse and buggy. Joe Fuentes pioneer resident, has made famous in this vicinity. After the drive the honor guests were escorted to the parish hall of St. John's Lutheran church where a program was presented. The pastor of the church, the Rev. E. H. Kreidt, extended best wishes and congratulations for the community. Miss Muriel Schmid, accompanied by Miss Frieda Schaaf, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

A mock marriage was presented by the following all in costume: Louis Tetzlaff, the groom; Bud Paschall, the bride; H. J. Crawford, the maid of honor; Gus Kahlen as best man; Marlene Paschall flower girl; Robert Kreidt, ring bearer; Hans Piscer the father of the bride and John Leek, the mother. Walter Meier served as clergyman.

The "bride" carried a bouquet of celery, radishes and carrots, and wore a train-length veil with an elaborate bridal gown.

A quartet composed of John Leek, Bud Paschall, Robert Kreidt and Gus Kahlen sang "The Voice in the Old Village Choir" and "I Want a Girl Just Like the One That Married Dear Old Dad."

Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn were presented with a beautiful overstuffed rocker of modern design by the guests. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

FORGOTTEN OVER COMICS
SALINAS, Cal.—(UP)—Roy Alvin, 14, on his hands and knees in an alley, was so vividly scanning a comic strip supplement that he did not notice an automobile that was backing up behind him, till the car passed over his legs. His injuries were not as serious as the comics were funny.
